

The Provost's Forums on the Public University and the Social Good

Thursday, March 7, 2013

Contested Politics of Knowledge in the Public University

One approach to the transformation of the public university is through engaged scholarship, which seeks to build and apply knowledge in ways that both inform social change and reflect critically on the politics of knowledge itself. This symposium invites leaders at the forefront of engaged scholarship to provoke a critical conversation about the prospects and pitfalls of this approach.

Presenters, from left: Nancy Cantor, Chancellor and President, Syracuse University; George Lipsitz, Professor of Sociology and Black Studies, University of California, Santa Barbara; Ken Reardon, Professor and Director, City and Regional Planning Graduate Program, University of Memphis.

Panelists, from left: Jesus Hernandez, University of California, Davis; Milton Reynolds, Facing History and Ourselves; Young Shin, Asian Immigrant Women Advocates.

Symposium:

10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Multi-Purpose Room

Student Community Center

Closing Keynote and Reception:

5 to 7 p.m.

Davis Odd Fellows Hall

415 2nd Street, Downtown Davis

UCDAVIS

Sponsored by: The Office of the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor, the Center for Collaborative Research and an Equitable California, the Center for Regional Change, and the Community and Regional Development Program